Leitfach: English

Rahmenthema: London

Begründung und Zielsetzung des Seminars:

London is not just the capital of the United Kingdom. It also counts as one of Europe's most significant financial centres, even after the Brexit.

Buckingham Palace is an unmistakable sign for the Royal Family and the parliamentary monarchy with King Charles III as its head of state.

Apart from that, London is home to people from all around the world which has influenced the city immensely. Famous authors, musicians and artists – from William Shakespeare to Ian McEwan, from Queen to Adele – have shown their own image of London in their different works.

If you are interested in joining this seminar, you should think about an area you want to focus on in advance.

Please note that this seminar will be held in English. The final paper also has to be written in English.
